These prompts ran in order and the later ones use reference images: the sheets, frames and stills made by the earlier image prompts. Make those first, then upload them with each later prompt where it says image 1, @Image1 and so on. The heading above each prompt names the tool and format it ran with.

Production package (one 4K image) · nanobanana_pro · InVideo · 16:9 4K

Reference binding: image 1 is the existing cast and set sheet (MEERA KOHLI and the classroom): keep her face, glasses, hair and wardrobe exactly, and keep the classroom. Image 2 is the existing register page: keep the header and all eight handwritten names letter for letter. Ignore both images' layouts and borders.

One single production package board for an original photoreal Indian horror short, laid out as a clean film pre-production document on a dark charcoal background, 16:9, four clearly separated panels:

PANEL 1 (left column) CAST: MEERA KOHLI, Indian woman, 38, substitute teacher: oval face, dark brown eyes, faint under-eye shadows, thin gold round wire glasses, black hair in a low loose bun with a few strands at the temples, small gold stud earrings, charcoal grey wool cardigan over a mustard cotton kurta, a thin brown leather watch on her LEFT wrist, a black fountain pen in her RIGHT hand. A seated waist-up front view and a face close-up, photoreal.

PANEL 2 (centre, the largest panel) SET, after dark, photoreal, two views stacked: TOP view "A": from the bench side looking at the teacher's desk at the front: one scarred wooden teacher's desk with ONE open cloth-bound register on it and nothing else, a wooden chair behind it, and behind that a blank dusty blackboard on a green-and-white peeling wall; barred window at the far right edge. BOTTOM view "POV": from the teacher's chair looking out over the desk edge at the room: six rows of scarred wooden two-seater benches with attached desks, all empty and pushed in, green-painted lower walls with peeling plaster, tall barred windows on the RIGHT wall with near-black blue night outside, ONE long fluorescent tube on the ceiling glowing steady cold white, the only light. No people in this panel.

PANEL 4 (bottom right) PROPS, top-down, product-photo style on the desk wood: the open register exactly as image 2: yellowed ruled paper, header "STD VII-B ATTENDANCE 1998", eight handwritten names, one per line: 1 ANSH MEHRA, 2 TARA PINTO, 3 KABIR NAIK, 4 RIYA JOSHI, 5 DEV SALUNKE, 6 NAINA RAO, 7 OMKAR DESAI, 8 MEERA KOHLI, with ONE small square box at the right end of each name's row, eight boxes. Boxes 1 to 6 hold faded blue ink ticks; boxes 7 and 8 are EMPTY. Beside the register lies ONE black fountain pen. Count: 1 register, 8 names, 8 boxes, 6 ticks, 1 pen.

Look: desaturated, ash grey, cold fluorescent green-white, night blue, muted mustard; practical light only; 35mm film grain.
Short white panel titles only (CAST, SET A, SET POV, FLOOR PLAN, PROPS) and the name MEERA KOHLI. No other text except the register page, no logos.

Register keyframe, step 1 (fresh still) · nanobanana_pro · 9:16 2K

Reference binding: image 1 is the earlier register still: keep its desk wood, paper, header style and handwriting style, but NOT its tick boxes. Image 2 is the production package: take the woman's hands, cardigan cuffs and the watch from its CAST panel.

Photoreal vertical film still, 9:16, top-down overhead insert shot straight down onto a scarred wooden teacher's desk, 50mm. The camera looks straight DOWN at the desk, so there is no ceiling, no lamp and no light fixture anywhere in frame.

RIYA JOSHI, 5 DEV SALUNKE, 6 NAINA RAO, 7 OMKAR DESAI, 8 MEERA KOHLI. There are NO boxes and no columns: each tick is written on the SAME ruled line as its name, a short gap to the right of the last letter of the name. State: lines 1 to 6 each have one faded blue tick right after the name, on the same line. Lines 7 (OMKAR DESAI) and 8 (MEERA KOHLI) have no tick.
Hands: the woman's RIGHT hand (charcoal grey wool cardigan cuff, no watch on this wrist) enters from the lower right holding a black fountain pen; the nib touches the paper on line 7, just right of the name OMKAR DESAI, about to tick it. Her LEFT hand rests flat on the lower left of the page holding it open; a thin brown leather watch on her left wrist.

Register keyframe, step 2 (edit: watch on the left wrist) · nanobanana_pro · 9:16 2K

Edit image 1. Keep everything identical (framing, desk, register, paper, header, the eight handwritten names letter for letter, both hands, the pen and its position) except two fixes:
FIX 1, the tick boxes: right now the column of boxes sits half a row too HIGH, so the first box is level with the header. Move the whole column of boxes DOWN so that every box sits on exactly the same ruled line as its own name, level with the name's letters: box 1 beside ANSH MEHRA, box 2 beside TARA PINTO, box 3 beside KABIR NAIK, box 4 beside RIYA JOSHI, box 5 beside DEV SALUNKE, box 6 beside NAINA RAO, box 7 beside OMKAR DESAI, box 8 beside MEERA KOHLI. Eight boxes in total. Boxes 1 to 6 hold the faded blue ticks; boxes 7 and 8 are EMPTY. Nothing sits level with the header line. The pen nib touches the empty box 7, level with OMKAR DESAI.
FIX 2: add a thin brown leather strap watch with a small round gold face on the LEFT wrist (the hand resting flat at the lower

No other changes.

OPENING FRAME, image 1 (edit: clean register, ticks after the names) · nanobanana_pro · 9:16 2K

Edit image 1. Keep the exact same top-down framing, the desk, the register's position and angle, the paper, the printed header, the eight handwritten names letter for letter, both hands, the watch, the fountain pen and its nib position exactly.
Change only the right-hand column of the left page: ERASE the whole printed column of square boxes and every tick inside them, leaving plain ruled paper there. Instead, right after each of the first six names (ANSH MEHRA, TARA PINTO, KABIR NAIK, RIYA JOSHI, DEV SALUNKE, NAINA RAO), on the same ruled line as the name, a short gap after its last letter, there is ONE small faded blue fountain-pen tick. OMKAR DESAI and MEERA KOHLI have no tick. No boxes anywhere on the page. No other changes.

CLOSING FRAME, image 4 (edit of image 1: hand gone, black tick after MEERA KOHLI) · nanobanana_pro · 9:16 2K

Edit image 1. Keep the exact same top-down framing, the desk, the register in exactly the same position and angle, the paper, the header, the eight handwritten names letter for letter, the six faded blue ticks after the first six names, and the LEFT hand flat on the lower left with its brown leather watch, all unchanged. Same light.
Changes only:
1. The RIGHT hand and the fountain pen are gone from the frame (she has pulled her hand back out of frame); where they were there is only paper and desk.
2. Right after OMKAR DESAI, on its line, one small faded blue tick like the six above.
3. Right after MEERA KOHLI, on the same ruled line as her name, ONE fresh, wet, glistening near-black ink tick, bold and clean, clearly darker and newer than every other mark on the page.

No boxes anywhere. No other changes.

Three-quarter MCU still · nanobanana_pro · 9:16 2K

Reference binding: image 1 is MEERA in medium close-up: keep her face, glasses, hair, earrings, wardrobe, the blackboard behind her and the hard fluorescent top light exactly. Image 2 is the production package (cast and classroom).

Photoreal vertical film still, 9:16, MEDIUM CLOSE-UP of MEERA KOHLI seated at the teacher's desk, 50mm, at her eye level. THREE-QUARTER angle: the camera stands about 35 degrees to the side of her sightline, so her face and body turn toward screen-RIGHT; we see her left cheek and both eyes, her nose pointing to screen-right. Her face is about 45 percent of the frame height, eyes on the upper-third line, the top of her bun just inside the frame. Her eyes are lowered, looking DOWN at the register on the desk (out of frame below). Expression: tired focus with a faint unease.
Behind her, soft and dark: the dusty blackboard and the green-and-white peeling wall, no window. Light: after dark, one steady cold white fluorescent tube overhead is the only light: hard top light, green-white sheen on her forehead and glasses, deep shadows under her eyes. Desaturated, ash grey, sickly green, muted mustard, crushed blacks, fine 35mm grain.
Wardrobe: thin gold round wire glasses, black hair in a low loose bun with a few strands at the temples, small gold stud earrings, charcoal grey wool cardigan over a mustard cotton kurta. No text, no other people.

THE SCENE: 5 shots in ONE generation (take 1, the take in the cut) · seedance_2_5.r2v · InVideo · 720p native, 9:16, bitrate high, 14 s, native audio Reference binding: image 1 is the OPENING FRAME of shot 1: start exactly on it. Image 2 is the MEDIUM CLOSE-UP for shot 2 (three-quarter, she faces screen-right). Image 3 is the TIGHTER CLOSE-UP for shot 4 (same angle, closer). Image 4 is the CLOSING FRAME: shot 5 is exactly this frame, the same crop as image 1. Image 5 is the PRODUCTION PACKAGE (cast, classroom from both sides, floor plan). Take face, glasses, hair, wardrobe, register, room and light from these exactly; ignore panel layouts, titles and labels.

Create an exactly 14-second vertical 9:16 photoreal horror scene: one continuous scene in one abandoned classroom, FIVE shots with hard cuts, native audio.

Logline: a substitute teacher takes attendance in a school that closed in 1998; every empty desk answers, and the last name on the register is her own.

Look: photoreal, desaturated, practical light only. ARRI Alexa Mini LF, 50mm and 35mm spherical lenses, Kodak 500T film emulation, fine 35mm grain, crushed blacks. Full night: the barred windows are near-black blue, no daylight. The ONLY key light is one long fluorescent tube on the ceiling, steady cold green-white at constant brightness in every frame: no flicker, no dimming, no flashes. Same exposure and colour in every shot, including the wide.

CONTINUITY LOCK (every frame of every shot):
- MEERA KOHLI, Indian woman, 38: thin gold round wire glasses, always on; black hair in a low loose bun with a few strands at the temples; small gold stud earrings; charcoal grey wool cardigan over a mustard cotton kurta; thin brown leather watch on her LEFT wrist. She stays seated at the teacher's desk the whole scene, facing the benches. The black fountain pen stays in her RIGHT hand and moves only with it.
- ONE open register on the desk, the only object on it, always in the same position and angle as image 1: header "STD VII-B ATTENDANCE 1998", eight handwritten names, one per line: 1 ANSH MEHRA, 2 TARA PINTO, 3 KABIR NAIK, 4 RIYA JOSHI, 5 DEV SALUNKE, 6 NAINA RAO, 7 OMKAR DESAI, 8 MEERA KOHLI. No boxes on the page: each tick sits right after its name. The names never change.

- The room: six rows of scarred wooden two-seater benches with attached desks, all EMPTY and pushed in; they never move. Green lower walls with peeling plaster; barred windows on the RIGHT wall as seen from her chair; the blank dusty blackboard behind her. Nobody else is in the room: no figures, no silhouettes, no shadows of people, no faces, no hands but hers.
- Eyeline: in every close-up she faces screen-RIGHT in three-quarter; her eyes go either down to the register or out to the room at screen-right. She NEVER looks into the lens.
- Physics: nothing moves by itself. The tick after OMKAR DESAI is drawn by her nib touching the paper. The black tick after MEERA KOHLI is never drawn on screen; it is already there when shot 5 starts.

SHOT 1 (0-2.5s) INSERT, 50mm, camera straight down on the register, locked off, exactly image 1. Her pen nib rests just after the name OMKAR DESAI. Her voice, off screen, tired and flat: "Omkar Desai?" A small boy's whisper answers from the room: "Present, Miss Kohli." Her right hand makes one small blue tick right after OMKAR DESAI, nib on paper. <fluorescent buzz> <nib scratch>
SHOT 2 (2.5-5.5s) MCU, 50mm, three-quarter, exactly image 2: her face about half the frame height, facing screen-right, the blackboard soft behind her. Her eyes start down on the register, then slowly lift to the room at screen-right, to the back rows, never to the lens. Her face drains: lips part, breath held. <fluorescent buzz> <near silence>
SHOT 3 (5.5-8.5s) WIDE POV from her chair over the front edge of the desk, 35mm, at seated eye height, as the SET POV panel of image 5: six rows of empty benches, the aisle down the middle, windows on frame RIGHT, the tube overhead, as dark and green-grey as the close-ups. A very slow handheld push forward with a slight breathing sway. Nothing in the room moves. <one long wooden creak in the back rows>
SHOT 4 (8.5-11.5s) TIGHT CLOSE-UP, same camera axis as shot 2 but closer, exactly image 3: her face fills about 60 percent of the frame height, glasses and both eyes sharp, still facing screen-right. Her eyes go down to the register and she reads the last name aloud in a dry, shaking whisper: "Meera... Kohli?" Fear, not a smile. <her whisper> <buzz>

SHOT 5 (11.5-14.0s) INSERT, a match cut to the same top-down framing as shot 1, exactly image 4: the register in the same place; her right hand and the pen are gone from frame; her left hand with the watch lies frozen flat on the page. Right after the name MEERA KOHLI sits one fresh, wet, glistening near-black tick. Locked off; nothing moves except a tiny tremble in her fingers. A small girl's whisper, very close: "Present." <silence after the whisper>

Do not show subtitles, captions or any text other than the register page. Do not show logos. Do not add music. Do not change her face, glasses, hairstyle or any clothing item between shots. Do not move the benches or the register. Never flicker or dim the light. No other people, no ghosts on screen. Five fingers on every hand.
Audio: her voice and two children's whispers, close and clear, English with Indian accents; fluorescent buzz; wood creak. No music.
