STORYBOARD: Storyboard (4 panels, the shared composition). Model `nano_banana_2_1`, engine invideo, ratio 16:9, length still

A clean four-panel storyboard sheet on white paper, panels in a 2x2 grid, loose pencil sketch with light grey marker shading, each panel 16:9 with a small caption under it. All four panels show the same small bakery kitchen counter from the same front camera position: a young woman baker with glasses and a messy bun stands on the left behind the counter, a small cat-sized dragon sits on the counter on the right, and the cupcake with one candle is between them.

Panel 1 caption "1 ASK": she holds the cupcake toward the dragon and talks; he nods eagerly.
Panel 2 caption "2 OVERSHOOT": the dragon blasts a huge fireball over the cupcake; her hair blows back; the cupcake is a black smoking lump.
Panel 3 caption "3 CORRECT": closer on both; she holds up a fresh cupcake and pinches thumb and finger almost together; the dragon squints and puffs a tiny spark that lights the candle.
Panel 4 caption "4 PAYOFF": she blows the candle out; the dragon instantly relights it with a tiny puff and grins; she stares flatly at the camera.
Keep both characters inside the middle band of every panel. No other text.

W_realistic: World sheet, Realistic Cinematic. Model `nano_banana_2_1`, engine invideo, ratio 16:9, length still Character and set reference sheet on a clean light cream background, every panel in the same style: a real photograph from a live-action film: anamorphic lens look, natural window light, fine film grain, a restrained colour grade; BOLT is a photoreal creature with real scales and real skin. Layout: left, MIRA full body front view and three-quarter view; centre, BOLT front view, side view and a close-up of his face; right, the KITCHEN counter set empty, seen from the front; bottom strip, the CUPCAKE close-up. Small panel labels only: "MIRA", "BOLT", "KITCHEN", "CUPCAKE". No other text, no logos.

MIRA: a young woman baker in her late twenties, warm brown skin, dark curly hair tied up in a messy bun with a yellow pencil stuck through it, round tortoiseshell glasses, a mustard-yellow apron over a white t-shirt, a flour smudge on her left cheek.

CUPCAKE: one cupcake with swirled pink frosting and a single blue-and-white striped birthday candle.

Exactly 4 seconds, one static shot with no cut, continuing from the first frame. Style throughout: a real photograph from a live-action film: anamorphic lens look, natural window light, fine film grain, a restrained colour grade; BOLT is a photoreal creature with real scales and real skin. MIRA is the young woman baker with glasses and a messy bun in a mustard-yellow apron; BOLT is the small teal-green dragon on the counter.
0-1s: MIRA holds the cupcake out toward BOLT and says clearly, warmly, in English: "Bolt. Just a tiny flame."
1-3s: BOLT nods three times, eager, tail wagging, and takes a deep breath, his chest puffing up.
3-4s: MIRA's smile freezes as BOLT's cheeks swell.
Sound: <her voice>  ; quiet bakery room tone; no music.
Keep the same style, the same characters and the same kitchen as the first frame for the whole shot. Do not show any text, captions, subtitles or logos.

3-4s: The flame stops. The cupcake is a black smoking lump. MIRA slowly opens her eyes, face streaked with soot, glasses askew, and blinks once.
Sound:  <crackling> ; quiet bakery room tone; no music.
Keep the same style, the same characters and the same kitchen as the first frame for the whole shot. Do not show any text, captions, subtitles or logos.

M1: Music bed. Model `elevenlabs_music_v2_5_instrumental`, engine invideo, ratio audio, length 70 s

A 70-second light comedy instrumental for a short cartoon gag played several times: bouncy pizzicato strings, a playful clarinet melody, soft glockenspiel accents and a light brushed snare, warm and cheeky, a steady 120 bpm. It keeps one consistent groove the whole way so it can sit under dialogue, with small playful fills every eight bars and a neat button ending on the last two seconds. No vocals, no lyrics.
